COURT SENDS TWO SOLDIERS TO PEN

Men From Camp Meade Stole Automobile of Their Company Commander.

MOTHER PLEADS FOR SON

Joseph Russo, On Parole From New York City Court, Goes to Huntington Reformatory.

For stealing the automobile of their company commander at Camp Meade, two United States Army soldiers, Theodore Thayer and William R. Phillips, were on Monday afternoon sentenced to not less than eighteen months nor more than two years in the Eastern penitentiary.

These sentences were given out by the Adams county court at a session called primarily to confirm accounts and transact routine business. Before adjournment, however, the court found sufficient time to sentence not only the two soldiers but several other persons whose names have been on the criminal docket for several months.

Thayer and Phillips were arrested in Gettysburg last week by Sheriff Hartman on the charge of stealing a machine from Captain Ellis Kurwing, of Camp Meade. During their brief term in jail they proved to be far from model prisoners and attempted to break jail by digging their way out. These facts were presented to the court by District Attorney Topper and had no little weight in bringing about the penitentiary sentences.

Joseph Russo, the Italian boy from New York City who was arrested early in the summer for breaking into the Western Maryland station at Fairfield and stealing the contents of several suit cases, was sent to the Huntington Reformatory for an indefinite period. Russo came before the court for sentence at the regular August term but his case was postponed pending an investigation by the Commonwealth. In its investigation the Commonwealth learned that instead of being a model citizen in New York, Russo was on parole from a court there.

A pathetic scene occurred in the court room when the mother of the Italian boy appeared and with tears

REPAY GIRL WHO WAS KIND TO HIM

Sampson Albert Makes Marie C. Shenk, Carlisle, His Chief Beneficiary.

ESTATE WORTH $40,000

She Cared For County Man During His Last Illness. Leaves Brother And Sister $5 Each.

As a reward for kindness to Sampson Albert, near Gardners Station during his last illness, Miss Marie C. Shenk, of Carlisle, will inherit an estate estimated to be about $40,000 according to the provisions of his will which has just been filed for probate with Register and Recorder Smiley here. Sampson Albert died at the Shenk home in Carlisle September first. He had been taken there after suffering a stroke of apoplexy.

Three clauses of the will provide for the disposal of a small portion of the estate to his sister, Mrs. Jerry Shelley, York Springs; his brother, George Albert, Table Rock, and John Duncan. To his sister he bequeathes $5, the same amount to his brother and $1,000 to John Duncan about whom he says "he has been faithful to me and did my outside work for me while I was sick."

Concerning the great bulk of his estate he writes in his last will and testament:

"Fourth—I give and bequeath unto my dear friend, Marie C. Shenk, who has befriended me and cared for me while I was sick, and treated me like a daughter, all my real estate, all my personal property, and all of the rest of my money, whatsoever is left after all my debts are paid, if there should be any."

Mr. Albert was a bachelor and lived alone on his farm, located between Gardners and York Springs. His business was that of trucker and he attended the Carlisle market regularly and there became acquainted with the Shenk family. In the spring of this year he was stricken with apoplexy and was unable to get about. Miss Shenk came to his house and for several months cared for him. His condition became worse and he was moved to the home of the girl's father, L. H. Shenk in Carlisle. There he remained until he died three weeks ago.

His estate includes a farm of two hundred acres, considerable personal property and securities. It is estimated Miss Shenk will receive approximately $40,000 for her kindness to Mr. Albert.

SCHEDULE CHANGES

Philadelphia and Reading Announces Winter Schedule. No New Train.

After three months of inconvenience and complaints, the local officials of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad announce that relief is at hand so far as the schedule is concerned.

Word has been received that on and after Sunday, September 25th, trains over the local Harrisburg and Gettysburg branch of the Reading will revert to their former winter schedule.

This will mean that instead of leaving here at 4:55 a. m., as the early train does, it will leave at 5:55 a. m., and that instead of arriving at 9:20 a. m., the morning train will arrive at 10:20 a. m. The afternoon and evening trains will also be moved forward an hour.

It had been hoped by residents in Gettysburg that with the announcement of the winter schedule, better service, in the form of another train at a more convenient hour, would be had, but no mention of this has been made by railroad officials.

SEE BIG PROGRAM FOR FARMERS' DAY

Complete Personnel of All Committees And Arrangements For Event Proceed.

SEEK NOVEL ATTRACTION

County High School Contest May Be Staged. Pig And Sheep Exhibit on West Middle Street.

Farmers' Day plans progressed a step Monday evening when a meeting of all the committees was held in the office of George C. Fissel for the purpose of outlining a program for the day which will be Thursday, October 21. It was decided in case of rain on that day to hold the event on Friday. Chairmen named at the previous meeting announced the personnel of their committees and each was instructed to proceed with the arrangements which it is believed will produce the most elaborate celebration of its kind ever staged by the local business men and farmers of the county.

Although no definite announcement was made by the entertainment and educational committees as to the feature numbers on the program, it was said a special attraction of a sensational type was the object of the first committee and the second was planning a contest in which all the high schools of the county will be asked to join. The parade this year, as has always been the case, will be an important feature and cash prizes amounting to $125 will be given for winners who appear in the procession.

Pig and sheep exhibits, an additional feature of Farmers' Day this year, will be on display in the first half block on West Middle street, it

PASSING BAD CHECKS

Charge Against Former Harrisburg And Hagerstown Resident.

In the near future H. F. Woolford, formerly of Harrisburg and Hagerstown, will appear before Justice of the Peace Hill on a charge of passing fraudulent checks. He is now in the Adams county jail.

D. W. Dunkle, of Harrisburg, on Monday caused a warrant to be issued for the arrest of Woolford charging that he had given him a check drawn on the Keystone bank of Harrisburg for $187.50 and that the check had been returned marked, "no such account". Since that time Mr. Dunkle declared he saw Woolford but the latter failed to make any effort to pay him.

HESSIAN FLY WARNING

State Agriculture authorities have issued warning to the farmers of Adams, Franklin, Lancaster, York, Berks, Chester and Cumberland counties that no wheat should be planted before September 28 to avoid the destructive Hessian fly, which is blamed by the bureau of Plant Industry for the loss of millions of dollars worth of grain in Pennsylvania every year. The earliest date for the state outside the southeastern "wheat belt" section is September 24.

BOOTLEGGING IS CHARGE OF POLICE

William Thompson, Formerly of Pittsburgh, Arrested in Race Horse Alley.

The subject of bootlegging, which had ceased to be a topic of conversation in Gettysburg for many weeks, came to the fore again Monday night when William Thompson, formerly of Pittsburgh, but now of Gettysburg, was arrested by local state troopers on a charge of illegal transportation of liquor.

At 10 o'clock at night Sergeant Charles D. Santee, commanding officer of the local sub-station, and Private John Leggoe nabbed Thompson after he had alighted from a second hand Chevrolet automobile in Race Horse alley between the Hotel Gettysburg and the Hoffman House. Near the car the troopers found a box containing twelve quarts of whisky. It is alleged that Thompson had just finished unloading the box from the automobile and intended carrying it into the stable, where he had been working for several months.

Thompson, who is about thirty years of age, was taken to the county bastille in company with Ellis Smith, a local youth, who was in the car at the time. It is doubtful if any charge will be brought against young Smith and he may be released in the near future.

This latest victim of the state troopers for alleged bootlegging first broke into the local limelight nearly a year ago when he was arrested here for supposedly running off with $1600 belonging to a Pittsburgh man. According to the general belief that money was given Thompson to purchase whiskey and consequently the Pittsburgh man was afraid to press any charges.

Thompson left Gettysburg following that arrest and did not return until three months ago. Since that time he has been working for Philip Hoffman at his stable behind the Hotel Gettysburg.

The whiskey is said to be "home made stuff" and rumors are afloat that it is the product of some Adams county still.

LIGHT VOTE IN MORNING HOURS

Total of Only 191 in Three Local Wards at 11 O'Clock.

Up until noon today little interest was shown by the voters toward the primary and special elections and early indications pointed toward an extremely light vote in Gettysburg.

At 11 o'clock sixty persons had voted at the Second Ward polls in the Eagle Hotel room facing North Washington street, an equal number at the Third Ward polls in the court house arbitration room and seventy one at the fire engine house where the First Warders congregate.

Comparatively few ward workers were on hand at any of the three polls although the candidates themselves were very much in evidence. Some of the Republican and Democratic leaders spent the day at or near the polls but took no active part in this primary election. Their best efforts will be put forth six weeks from now when the general election is held.

Opinions differed as to the time it will take to count the vote. One man offered to make another a present of a dollar for every precinct that reported by midnight.

Due to the slight interest in the various races there were no elaborate plans made for procuring returns from the forty precincts. The Republicans, however, will congregate in the office of the commissioners while the Democrats will hold forth in the office of Register H. E. Smiley, their county chairman.

PLAN TO FORM POST AUXILIARY

Women of Community Will Be Asked to Support American Legion.

URGED TO SUPPORT PLAY

"All Aboard" Discussed at Second September Meeting of Post. Offer of Congressman Declined.

As soon as the necessary forms arrive from the state headquarters in Philadelphia, a Ladies Auxiliary of the American Legion will be started in Gettysburg.

Plans for the proposed auxiliary were outlined at the second September meeting of the post Monday night by Peter McCallion, of Gettysburg, chairman of the Ladies Auxiliary committee consisting in addition of Lloyd Hess and William Timmins.

Following the regular post meeting which lasted but thirty minutes, this committee convened and selected twenty women of the town as a nucleus for the auxiliary. Only ten names are necessary to start such an organization, according to information received by Chairman McCallion from William G. Murdock, state adjutant.

Mothers, wives and sisters of all members of the Legion or of soldiers, sailors or marines who lost their lives during the World War are eligible to membership.

Inasmuch as the necessary forms have not been received here it will be impossible for the committee to form an auxiliary before the presentation of "All Aboard," the musical comedy, in the Lincoln Way theater on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights of next week. The show, however, was a main topic of discussion at the meeting and all members were urged to support it. It was reported that the practices were proceeding splendidly. The offer of Congressman Edward S. Brooks to present the post with a caisson to haul caskets for military funerals was not accepted inasmuch as the post has no horses for such occasions. The adjutant was instructed to write to Congressman Brooks, thanking him for his offer and for his interest in the Albert Lentz post.

No word has been received lately from Harry H. Gardiner, the "Human Fly" and the commander stated to the members that he would write to Washington in the near future and find out if the "Fly" were certain to climb in Gettysburg on Farmers Day.

FORMAL OPENING

College Opens Its Ninetieth Year With Large Enrollment.

With the faculty of Gettysburg College in academic dress appropriate exercises at the opening of the ninety-ninth year of that institution in Brua Chapel will be held Wednesday morning at 11:00 o'clock. President William A. Granville will deliver the address of welcome at these exercises to which the general public is also invited. Monday saw a large influx of the older students into Gettysburg and from indications everything points to a large Freshman class. Estimates place the number of Freshmen from between 150 to 200 and the total enrollment about 500.

Gettysburg Academy will also open Wednesday morning and this promises to be the largest year for that institution.

BIG REWARD FOR STOLEN BOOZE

Old Horsey Company Offers $12,000 For Return of Liquor.

NO RECENT ARRESTS MADE

Man And Wife Held For Robbery Identified as Participants in Raid on Warehouse.

Twelve thousand dollars reward has been offered for the arrest of the persons who stole twelve hundred cases of Old Horsey whisky from the warehouse of the Horsey Distillery at Burkittsville, Saturday a week ago. Ten dollars will be paid for the return of each case of liquor. Since the arrest of George Martin and his wife in Baltimore several days ago as the leaders of the gang of robbers, no arrests have been made.

George Martin, now held in jail at Frederick in connection with the theft of $100,000 of whisky from the Horsey Distillery, was identified by George Dyer and Carl Snook as the man who sat in an automobile with Dyer and Snook and compelled them to drive to Frederick behind the automobile trucks which are said to have been laden with the stolen booze.

Both Dyer and Snook, it is reported, said that Martin is the man who stopped them along the road, and compelled them to drive behind the trucks and later released them at the fair grounds.

Martin has been identified by H. C. Bural, of Monrovia, according to reports, as the man who superintended the storing of two trucks laden with whisky, in the Bural barn, where it remained from Saturday morning until Tuesday. Martin was also identified by George Willing, a guard at the distillery, as the man who stuck a gun in his face and helped to tie him up. Mrs. Martin was identified as the woman who sat in an automobile and checked the whisky as it arrived on the Bural farm. Warrants charging Martin with robbing the Horsey Distillery, and charging his wife with being an accomplice, have been issued by Justice J. Grahame Johnson before they were brought to Frederick. Martin, it is said, carried a revolver.

More Warrants Issued

The investigation into the theft continued Sunday, but no reports of any arrests were made. It was reported that perhaps a dozen warrants

BUCKNELL STAR HERE

Wilsbach, Backfield Man, Says He Is Here To Study.

Tony Wilsbach, who shared backfield honors with Bowser in the Bucknell backfield last season, has arrived here to enter Gettysburg College. It is the present intention of Wilsbach, however, to stay off the gridiron and devote his time to study. He left Bucknell because the coaches and students insisted on his playing.

Wilsbach was a real star at the up-state institution and many critics believe that his interference was responsible for as many Bucknell victories as Bowser's runs. He also played center on the basketball team.

(By Associated Press) Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 20.—No wage reduction of coal miners must be permitted and all resources of the miners unions must be made available to back up the policy in opposition to wage cuts, John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America declared here today in his report made at the opening of the biennial convention of the international union. Much of Mr. Lewis' 40,000 word report related to the wage question apparently indicating that it would be among the most important business of the convention. Other essential points of the report, included recommendation that the convention reaffirm its declaration of two years ago favoring nationalization of coal mines and declaration that the fight in Mingo county, West Virginia, must be won.

TRIED TO FRAME WITNESS

Charge Four In Arbuckle Case With Fraud.

(By Associated Press) San Francisco, Sept. 20.—Charges that four persons, one of them a prominent figure in the Roscoe Arbuckle case, had discussed the likelihood of their benefiting financially by means of tampering with important prosecution witnesses were made today by State's Attorney Brady. Mr. Brady's statement followed adjournment of the San Francisco Grand Jury, which is delving into this and other incidents connected with the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, screen actress.

The persons were heard by the Grand Jurors in relation to the alleged attempt to tamper with state witnesses. These three were Miss Joyce Clarke, Gabor Kingstone and Reginald Morley. After conclusion of the Jury Session, District Attorney Brady declared in part that "the investigation brought out that Miss Clarke, Kingstone Morley and Mrs. Ruby Kingstone-Morley discussed the proposition of taking money out of the case by framing Miss Joyce Clarke to impeach the testimony of Miss Zeh Provost, a most important witness."

HARDING TO GET TAX BILL SOON

Penrose Declares All Desire to Expedite its Passage.

Treasury Experts Estimate Total Revenue From Measure as it Stands Will be Over Three Billions.

Washington, Sept. 20.—The tax revision bill will be sent to the President by the latter part of October, Chairman Penrose predicted yesterday in announcing that the Senate Finance Committee has formally approved the House measure as amended.

Neither the Smoot manufacturers' sales tax nor the Calder proposal to impose a tax of $6.40 a gallon on all alcoholic liquors, withdrawn from bond for other than manufacturing purposes will be included in the measure as it will be presented to the Senate Wednesday. The authors have given notice, however, that they expect to present these amendments on the Senate floor.

While the amendment to impose a tax of $6.40 a gallon on alcoholic liquors was not included in the text of the bill, Chairman Penrose said it was accepted in principle by the committee and that Mr. Calder would offer the amendment in the Senate practically as a committee amendment.

To Press For Final Action

Senator Penrose said that, so far as the business of the Senate would permit, it was the purpose to take the bill up immediately and press for final action. He added that some features, particularly the profits tax repeal and the proposed reduction of the maximum income surtax rate of 32 per cent would be opposed from "certain quarters," but that there seemed to be a general desire to expedite passage.

"Under these circumstances," he continued, "there is reasonable expectation that the bill can be passed in the Senate with two weeks' consideration and ought not to require more than a week in conference, if that long a time. It is entirely safe, therefore, for me to predict that the bill will be sent to the President during the latter part of October."

"It is extremely desirable to have the bill passed as soon as may be, in order that Treasury officials can have ample opportunity to frame and promulgate rules and regulations under the new measure."

Will Produce Required Revenue

"I think the amendments to be presented to the Senate improve the bill, which will produce the revenue required and contains many features ameliorating conditions now burdensome to the taxpayer."

While treasury experts have yet to complete their final estimate as to the total revenue that probably would be raised this fiscal year, under the measure as amended, it was stated that the amount would not be less than $3,200,000,000, the minimum which Secretary Mellon informed the committee would be necessary. For the next fiscal year it is estimated roughly that the return would be around $2,700,000,000.

Blew Boarder's Head Off

Woman Declares He Attempted Attack on Daughter.

Farrell, Pa., Sept. 20.—Because Daniel Santelle, aged 45, a boarder in her home, was alleged to have attempted an attack upon her seven-year-old daughter, Mrs. Philomena Ballias, according to the police, blew the man's head off with a shotgun. Mrs. Ballias herself went to the police station and told of the tragedy and of its cause.

Mrs. Ballias, according to Police Sergeant Walter Altman, said that she shot Santelle after her little daughter, Mary, came to her and told of mistreatment at the hands of the man. With her husband in Italy and no son or other friend to avenge the alleged wrong, Mrs. Ballias, according to Sergeant Altman, got a double-barreled shotgun and went to Santelle's room. Pausing only long enough to accuse him, she is alleged to have fired both barrels of the weapon, at close range, the charges tearing the man's head to shreds. Leaving the bleeding body where it fell, Mrs. Ballias went to the police station.

MASKED MEN SEIZE LIQUOR

Bloomfield, Kentucky, Sept. 20.—Twenty masked and armed men overpowered two guards at the M. McClaskey & Sons Distillery, bound them with wire torn from the telephone line, blindfolded them with curtains from the distillery office and escaped in seven touring cars with 88 cases and three barrels of whisky early yesterday.

The bandits also took from one of the guards $55 in cash and a pistol. The distillery is within a quarter of a mile of the center of Bloomfield's business district.

BOARD GRANTS PLEA OF PENNSY

Road Ask Annulment of Election Order. Three Questions to be Considered.

Chicago, Sept. 20.—The Pennsylvania Railroad yesterday was granted permission by the United States Railroad Labor Board to appear before it on September 26 in support of its plea that the board's order that a new election be held of employee representatives in the negotiations over working conditions should be annulled.

The board, in the ruling, gave the road permission to present evidence on three subjects, namely:

1. As to what employees not in actual service of the carrier may vote in the election of the employees' representative to conduct negotiations with the road over rules and working conditions.

2. As to how the representative capacity of spokesmen of unorganized employees shall be ascertained.

3. On the adoption of ratification of its shop-craft rules by representatives of said crafts fairly elected by a majority of employees of that class.

Railroad's Request

The Pennsylvania's request of August 24 specifically asked four things. That the board vacate its decision of July 26, directing the Pennsylvania to confer with union officers and hold a new election for employee representatives to negotiate working rules; that the board find "in pursuance of the transportation act" that the carrier has the legal right to establish rules, either with or without conferring with its employees; that the board ratify agreements already made between the Pennsylvania and its employees; and that an oral hearing be granted to offer testimony in support of assertions made in the road's petition.

David Bender, convicted murderer of a Baltimore policeman and escaped convict from the Maryland penitentiary was returned to Baltimore today in the custody of local detectives.

Later Bender was returned to the Penitentiary to finish his sentence. He served about 5 years of an 18-year sentence. IRELAND READY FOR PEACE TALK

No Intention of Seeking Recognition of Independence as Primary.

DE VALERA WIRES GEORGE

Says Irish Will Enter Conference to be Free on Both Sides And No Prejudices.

London, Sept. 20.—Eamonn de Valera telegraphed to Premier Lloyd George yesterday asking whether Mr. Lloyd George's letter of September 7 was intended as "a demand for a surrender on our part or an invitation to a conference free on both sides and without prejudice should an agreement not be reached."

Mr. de Valera says that if the latter is meant the Sinn Fein confirms its acceptance of the invitation to a conference and its delegates are ready to meet the British representatives any time in the immediate future.

Mr. de Valera in beginning his note declared that the Sinn Fein at no time had any thought of asking the acceptance of any conditions for the conference.

The Irish Republican leader expressed the belief that a "treaty of accommodation and association" properly concluded between Great Britain and Ireland and between Ireland and the States making up the British Commonwealth would end the dispute forever, enabling both British and Irish to settle down in peace and work together in friendly co-operation in "affairs of agreed common concern."

Text of De Valera's Note

The text of Mr. de Valera's telegram follows:

"Sir: We have had no thought at any time of asking you to accept any conditions precedent to a conference. We would have thought it as unreasonable to expect you, as a preliminary, to recognize the Irish Republic formally or informally as that you should expect us, formally or informally, to surrender our national position. It is precisely because neither side accepts the position of the other that there is a dispute at all and that a conference is necessary to search for and discuss such adjustments as might compose it."

"A treaty of accommodation and association, properly concluded between the people of these two islands and between Ireland and the group of States in the British Commonwealth, would, we believe, end the dispute forever, and enable the two nations to settle down in peace, each pursuing its own individual development and contributing its own quota to civilization, but working together in free and friendly co-operation in affairs of agreed common concern."

"To negotiate such a treaty the respective representatives of the two nations must meet, but if you seek to impose preliminary conditions which we must regard as involving the surrender of our whole position, they cannot meet."

"Your last telegram makes it clear that misunderstandings are more likely to increase than diminish and the cause of peace is more likely to be retarded than advanced by the continuance of the present correspondence."

"We request you, therefore, to state whether your letter of September 7 is intended to be a demand for surrender on our part or an invitation to a conference free on both sides and without prejudice should an agreement not be reached."

"If the latter, we readily confirm our acceptance of the invitation, and our appointed delegates will meet your Government's representatives at any time in the immediate future that you designate."

AUTO INDUSTRY DECLINES

Washington, Sept. 20.—The number of persons employed in nine major industries showed increases in August over July, while decreases occurred in five, according to figures made public last night by the department of labor.

ARBUCKLE'S WIFE RETURNS TO HIM

Embraces Her After Four Years' Separation. Jury Probe Resumed.

San Francisco, Sept. 20.—Roscoe ("Fatty") Arbuckle and the wife from whom he has been separated for more than four years had a reunion yesterday in the visitors' room at the City Prison, where Arbuckle is awaiting trial on a murder charge. He is accused of causing the death of Miss Virginia Rappe through an episode at a drinking party in his suite at a hotel here.

Arbuckle clasped Mrs. Minta Durfee Arbuckle in his arms, then affectionately greeted her mother, Mrs. Flora Durfee. The three, with the prisoner's brother, A. C. Arbuckle of San Francisco, then sat down for a half hour of conversation.

She Refuses To Sign

The Grand jury resumed its investigation of the Arbuckle affair last night, subpoenas having been sent out for Dr. M. E. Rumwell, the attending physician in most of Miss Rappe's illness, Miss Joyce Clark, one of the participants in the party, Dr. Gabor Kingstone and Reginald Morely, two men who were reported to have some knowledge of the affair and several other witnesses.

Miss Clark was questioned by District Attorney Matthew A. Brady yesterday, but refused to sign a statement, and accordingly was ordered to appear before the Grand Jury.

Sherman Slips Away

Lowell Sherman of Los Angeles, also subpoenaed, is enroute to Chicago, Brady said, and no legal means exist to bring him back. Sherman was an occupant of the Arbuckle suite and was present at the party from which the death of Miss Rappe resulted.

The list of distinguished guests includes Marshal Foch, General Pershing, Admiral David Beatty, commander of the British fleet, General Armando Diaz, commander in chief of the armies of Italy, Lieut. Gen. Baron Jacques, head of the Belgian army, Admiral William T. Sims and Maj. Gen. John A. Lejeune, commandant of the U. S. Marine Corps.

Tentative acceptances have been received from President Harding, Lieut. General Sir William Currie, former commander of the Canadian corps in France, Vice-President Coolidge, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, Rear Admiral R. E. Conz, Maj. Gen. Charles P. Menoher, Brig. Gen. William C. Mitchell, the commanding general of all American combat divisions in the World War, and twenty state governors.

The first annual convention of the Women's Auxiliary will be held at the same time as the Legion convention. This is expected to draw more than 5,000 women. There are also annual reunions of the 89th and 35th divisions and a number of minor regimental reunions.

Twenty-five wearers of the Congressional Medal of Honor, the highest American award for bravery, will be guests of the citizens of Kansas City during the convention.

Because of the unusual guests and the fare of one cent a mile granted by sixteen railroads covering thoroughly the middle West Legion area, the convention committee expects from 75,000 to 100,000 visitors. It has laid plans to take care of all who come.

In conjunction with the convention, the Kansas City Flying Club will stage a three-day flying show for $10,000 in cash prizes and cups. The program will include night bombing, parachute drops, trials for the world's altitude record and a number of races, culminating in the American Legion Derby, a 150-mile race open to all makes of planes.

A parade of more than 40,000 Legion members will be accompanied by bands and drum corps sent by posts in all parts of the country. The marchers, in uniform, will be reviewed by the distinguished convention visitors.

Honors to the World War dead will be rendered at dedication ceremonies on the site of Kansas City's $2,000,000 Liberty Memorial.

INDIAN SITUATION BAD

Find Formidable Bands Of Rebels In The Hills.

London, Sept. 20—Official investigations of conditions in India show that the situation is more serious than was at first believed. The military forces sent into the troubled district of the Malabar coast are experiencing difficulties owing to the mobility of the rebels and the nature of the country. Formidable bands of rebels are scattered through the hills, which, for the most part, are covered with forests.

Two thousand rebels are said to be massed in the Pandalar hills northeast of Calicut, where an action is imminent, and another band is endeavoring to join these rebels. Officials here hold that the insurgents can be starved out if the main roads are held and certain areas are garrisoned.

A similar dispatch to Reuters Limited, says that at a council of state held there it was declared that the lives and property of non-Moslems were unsafe except in the vicinity of garrisons and near railways. It was said the insurgents, of whom five bodies are known to exist, control certain areas and that immediate reestablishment of authority is impossible.

The plan was proposed as a part of a general scheme to relieve unemployment conditions by bringing into circulation a large amount of cash and providing employment for hundreds of men for at least one week.

A NEW SHOW ON THE ROAD

Morning came, a crystal autumn morning, and life went on. If there was any change at the cabin it was a change for the better. Alix, who had been silent and troubled for a little while, was more serene now, as usual.

concerned for the comfort of her household, and as usual busy all day long with her poultry and pigeons, her bee-keeping, stable, and dogs. Peter was his courteous, gentle, interested self, more like the old Peter, who had always been occupied with his music and his books, than like the passionately metamorphosed Peter who had been so changed by love for Cherry. Martin, satisfied with the general results and consideration with which he found himself surrounded, accepted the letter placidly enough; perhaps he had been disturbed by the advent of the letter, perhaps he was willing to let the question of an adjustment between Cherry and himself rest. It amused him to help get the house ready for a tenant, and from the fact that Cherry talked no more of living there, and made no comment upon his frequent reference to their departure on Monday, he deduced that she had come to her senses.

Cherry, too, was less unhappy than she had been. By avoiding Peter, by refraining even in words and looks from the companionship for which she so hungered, by devoting herself to Alix, she managed to hold her feelings in leash. Even though Alix found that the knowledge of the secret they shared without ever mentioning stood between them like a screen, the sisters, busy about the house, had wonderful hours together.

CHAPTER XVIII.

Saturday came, a perfect day that filled the little valley to the brim with golden sunshine. Alix, driving alone to the mountain cabin, stared in the morning freshness at the blue overhead and said aloud, "Oh, what a day of gold!"

The dog, sitting beside her on the front seat, flapped his tail in answer to her voice, and she laughed at him. But the laugh was quickly followed by a sharp sigh.

"Saturday," she mused, "and Martin expects Cherry to go with him on Monday! Expects her to go back with him to a life of misery for her, existence with a man she hates! Oh, Cherry—my little sister!—there can be no happiness for you there! And Peter! Peter is left behind to me, who cannot comfort him or still the ache that is tearing his heart! My two loved ones, and what can I do to help them!"

She had come up to the cabin to do the usual last little daily fussing among the ducks and chickens and to bring Peter, if Peter had not gone into town, back with her to Cherry's house. They had all dined in the old Strickland house the night before, and because of a sudden rainfall had decided to spend the night there, too. The Chinese boy who had been helping the sisters with their housecleaning had been persuaded to cook the dinner and get breakfast, and the evening about the old fireplace had been almost too poignantly sweet.

But suddenly, at about ten o'clock, the low and hissing streets, and Alix felt a great pang of pity when she saw him. He came to her smiling, but as Cherry had smiled, with a wan and ghastly face.

"Peter, you're not well?" Alix said. "I think—I am a little upset," he answered. They walked back to the house together. Alix ordered him to take a hot bath, and made him drink some coffee, when, refreshed and grateful, he came out to the porch half an hour later. They shared the little meal that was her luncheon and his breakfast.

He followed her to the car and got in the front seat beside her.

"You're awfully good to me," he said, briefly, when they were going down the long grade.

Alix did not answer immediately and he thought that she had not heard. She ran the big machine through the valley, stopped at the postoffice, and still in silence began the climb toward the old house. The roads were all narrow here, but she could have followed them in the dark, he knew, and he understood that it was not her driving that made her face so thoughtful and kept her eyes from meeting his.

"You say I'm good to you, Pete," she surprised him by saying suddenly. "I hope I am. For you've been very good to me, my dear. There's only one thing in life that I haven't got, and want. And that you can't, unfortunately, get for me."

Cherry, who had not slept and who was pale, had come out to the car, her distracted manner increasing Alix's sense that something was gravely amiss. She started on her trip with a heavy heart, but the half-hour's run soothed her in spite of herself, and now she reached the cabin in a much more cheerful mood.

Peter was nowhere about, and as she plunged into the work of house and farmyard she supposed, without giving the matter a conscious thought, that he had gone to the city.

"Where Mr. Peter Go Now?" She Asked.

"Miss Peter not go train," Kow announced presently.

All Alix's vague suspicions awakened.

"Not go train?" she asked with a premonitory pang.

Kow made a large gesture, as indicating affairs disorganized.

"Him no go to bed," he further stated. "Boss come late. He walkin' on porch."

"He came in late and walked on the porch!" Alix echoed in a low tone, as if to herself. "Where Mr. Peter go now?" she asked. "He have some coffee?"

"No eat," the boy answered. He indicated the direction of the creek, and after a while Alix, with an icy heart, went to the bridge and the pool where Peter had first found Cherry only a few weeks ago.

He was standing, staring vaguely at

He had flushed darkly, and he spoke with a little effort. "I'd like to try!" She ignored the invitation for a few minutes, and for an instant of panic he thought he saw her lip tremble. But when she turned to him, it was with her usual smile.

"It's only that I would like to have you—and Martin—and Cherry as happy as I am!" she said quickly. And a second later the mood was gone as she turned the car in at the home gate and exclaimed, "There's Cherry now!"

"Martin's somewhere about," Cherry said as Peter joined her, and Alix stopped the car within conversational range.

Alix remarking that she would turn the car so that she might later start on the grade, disappeared, and the two were together again, after what a night—and what a day!—and that was all that mattered. They spoke confusedly, in brief monosyllables, and were silent, their eyes meeting only furtively and briefly.

"Can you walk up to the cabin with me?" Peter asked. "I want so much to speak to you. Everything's all arranged for tomorrow. All you have to think of is yourself. Now, in case of missing the boat again—which isn't conceivable, but we must be ready for anything!—I shall go straight to the club. You must telephone me there. Just go off tonight quietly, get as much sleep as you can, and keep your wits about you."

All our skill, facilities, and lifelong knowledge of the finest tobaccos are concentrated on this one cigarette—CAMEL.

Into this ONE BRAND, we put the utmost quality. Nothing is too good for Camels. They are as good as it's possible to make a cigarette.

Camel QUALITY is always maintained at the same high, exclusive standard. You can always depend on the same mellow-mild refreshing smoothness—the taste and rich flavor of choicest tobaccos—and entire freedom from cigarette aftertaste.

And remember this! Camels come in one size package only—20 cigarettes—just the right size to make the greatest saving in production and packing. This saving goes straight into Camel Quality. That's one reason why you can get Camel Quality at so moderate a price.

Here's another. We put no useless frills on the Camel package. No "extra wrappers!" Nothing just for show!

Such things do not improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons. And their added cost must go onto the price or come out of the quality.

One thing, and only one, is responsible for Camels great and growing popularity—that is CAMEL QUALITY.

Coaches Wood and Haines Supervise Signal Practice.

In the presence of a fair sized audience of students and alumni gathered here for the opening of college, the Varsity squad went through a prolonged work out on the local field Monday afternoon.

Head Coach Bill Wood and Backfield Coach "Hinky" Haines instructed the squad in the art of forward passing for a half hour and then divided it into two separate elements. Captain Bream, Smith, Mordan and Davis for on the A squad backfield with Emanuel and Kyle at ends, Phillips and Dean at tackles, Wolf and Yost at guards and Gilliland at center. Piney Bender, an original backfield aspirant, has been switched to center on B squad while Buzz Hunter, Gettysburg High star, is now a candidate for guard due to the fact that his knee injury greatly handicaps his running.

Ginger Gingerich, selected last year as a leading guard in Central Pennsylvania, played the other guard with Hunter on B squad. Bill Brietch called signals.

Wilkie Roberts, a new candidate from Leechburg for a backfield position, showed a lot of dash and spirit in his initial work out.

FIRST CHANCE FOR CLARKE

Showed Up Well With Cincinnati In Exhibition Game.

Lefty Clarke, the star southpaw twirler of the Waynesboro Blue Ridge team who is trying out with the Cincinnati Reds this fall, received his first chance last week in an exhibition game with the Middletown, Ohio, team.

Hod Eller worked the first five innings and allowed three hits and no runs. Clarke pitched the last four and allowed three hits and one run. Cincinnati won the game, 3-1. The following day Clarke hurt his arm slightly but it is coming around alright under the supervision of the club trainer.

Walter Kimmick, Waynesboro third sacker, went to third when Clarke mounted the peak. He had no chances in the field and failed to hit safely in two trips to the plate. Clarke made one hit and scored Cincinnati's third run.

WOMAN GOES OVER FALLS

Tourists See Her Leap Into The Upper Rapids.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Sept. 20—An unidentified woman was borne through the upper rapids and over the American falls yesterday afternoon after she was seen to jump into the river near Goat Island Bridge.

The name, Mrs. Wyant, scribbled on a piece of paper tucked into a purse, was found on the shore, with the address, 354 East Utica street, Buffalo. The purse also contained 75 cents.

The tragedy was witnessed by a score of persons.

Will Print a Wonderful Serial Story

by Ethel M. Dell, entitled

The Lamp in the Desert

"He knelt beside her, his arms comfortingly around her."

Once again Miss Dell transports us to India, that India which she knows so well, the land of mystery, intrigue, and deep passion. She shows us a man, a strong man who is ready to sacrifice fame and ambition, and even life itself, to shield from sorrow the woman he loves. In that darkest hour when the young mother realizes that she is wife in name only, even then the memory of his strength upholds her, and across the desert—her bitter desert of ashes—the lamp still shines throughout the darkness of pain and sorrow until the dawning of their new day of love and perfect recompense.

This story of a great love

SUNDAY SORRY FOR ARBUCKLE

Thinks Screen Star Has Been Punished Enough. Blames Girl, Too.

Sioux City, Ia., Sept. 20—I feel sorry for "Fatty" Arbuckle and do not see how any court in the land could convict the fallen idol for murder or for manslaughter. He has suffered enough, in my opinion, says Billy Sunday in an interview.

How can you punish Arbuckle unless you punish Mrs. Bambina Maud Delmont and the others who were his guests at the St. Francis and who have told their story to District Attorney Brady?

I blame booze for the whole thing. Had there been no liquor at that party Virginia Rappe would not have lost her life. But there were intoxicants and I see by the papers that 40 quarts of whisky and other hard liquor were consumed by "Fatty" and his guests.

Arbuckle realizes that the way of the transgressor is hard. He was the movies' best comedian. He was the favorite of old and young alike when they went to the picture shows to get a laugh. He drew because he was good, because his plays were not suggestive of immorality. He did a lot of good in the world, but he made folks laugh and forget their cares and sorrow. He was the sun that shone on filmdom.

Now his pictures are barred. And while they are banning his pictures, they should quit showing Miss Rappe's.

Blames Girl, Too

Without a doubt she went to the party of her own free will and accord.

From what I gather from the papers, Miss Rappe also went into the bedroom with "Fatty" not because he forced her to go—for it seems that he did not—but because she wanted to go in there with him. The girl died, but I believe her death was caused by an accident and not by Roscoe Arbuckle.

That party was as wild as any I ever heard of. There are many others going on that are just as wild, however, and that is because immorality is increasing and immorality gird laws, whether they be laws of will increase as long as people disrepute the churches, or of the Government. At that, I consider prohibition has been successful.

How do I figure that prohibition is a success if immorality is increasing? you will ask.

Well, the Volstead act has taken away the saloons, for one thing, and has made communities more prosperous. But as I have just said, there are violations of all laws; what the prohibition act needs is bigger funds for its enforcement.

Modern Belshazzar

That party of Arbuckle's was just a case of modern Belshazzar entertaining. "Fatty" fell for whisky and wild women. Old Belshazzar had a party that was most disgraceful, but that party had nothing on "Fatty's." I simply blame Arbuckle for putting on the party. Convict him for murder? How can they! Sentence him for manslaughter! That seems impossible.

Roscoe has my sympathy. But he has lost his reputation and that is enough punishment unless the testimony at the trial is a lot worse than that already given.

SHERIFF JAILS
5 MOONSHINERS

Police Have Clues to Large Still in Mountains of Mifflin.

Lewistown, Pa., Sept. 20.—Having searched the mountains of Mifflin and Snyder counties all night, Sheriff M. A. Davis, of Mifflin; Sheriff Frank Reitz, of Snyder; Railroad Officer J. M. Dockey, and a number of deputies, returned here yesterday with five prisoners, one of whom is alleged to be the ring leader of a gang of moonshiners operating in this section of the State.

The defendants are Joseph Weirick, of Middleburgh; Samuel Long, of Kissime; Peter Haines, of Beaver Springs; Charles Bickhart, of Selinsgrove, and Benjamin Kazar, supposed to be the leader.

They are being held in the Mifflin county jail for a hearing, the date of which has not been set. John Felker, who was caught in the automobile with Haines, was left with Sheriff Reitz, of Snyder county, and will be held as a material witness.

Search For Mountain Still

The police officers left here Sunday night at 8 o'clock, after they received reports that an automobile load of liquor had been upset near Reedsville. The officers found that the liquor had been scattered over the road and the automobile wrecked. They continued their search toward Snyder county, making the arrests during the night.

The officers believe that the arrests of these men will give clues to the operation of a large still in the mountains, from where they think liquor is being furnished throughout the central part of the State. According to reports received by the authorities, a load of the liquor had been taken to Belleville, where it was to be sold. The entire quantity was not disposed of, and the men were on their return when the accident occurred. Officers said yesterday they would continue their search of the mountains in the hope of finding the still.

of Swift & Company

More than 21,000 employees of Swift & Company own or are paying for shares in the business. These men and women have attested their faith in the integrity and good will of the company by investing their savings in the business.

Their holdings represent a total of nearly 250,000 shares, the par value ($100 a share) of which is more than $24,500,000.

These 21,000 represent more than one-third of our average number of employees!

One man out of every three, in plant, office, and branch house, from the handworker on the floor to the brain worker at the desk; working with us as well as for us, devoting himself to his own business while devoting himself to ours; promoting his own interests in every motion or moment saved, in every product improved or maintained at perfection, in every service rendered through prompt, thorough, effective distribution of products.

This interested, eager group of fellow partners working with us for the good of Swift & Company and the public which we serve, constitutes one-half of the ownership of Swift & Company in point of numbers, and nearly one-sixth in point of shares outstanding.

It represents practical and successful progress toward the end at which enlightened modern industry is aiming for the solution of industrial problems—toward cooperation, mutuality, brotherhood in business, for the good of all.

WOMAN THINKS SHE IS PRIVILEGED TO TALK

"If any one ever had a miserable stomach I surely had. It was growing worse, too, all the time. Had severe pains and attacks every ten days or two weeks and had to call a doctor, who could only relieve me for short while. Two years ago last February I took a treatment of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and I have not had a spell of pain or misery since. My friends just wonder that I am looking so well. I feel I am privileged to talk about it."
